ENGAGEMENT DURATION	REPORTING MANAGER
12 months	HR Manager

ROLE APPOINTMENT

You will report to HR Manager or any other person designated by the company from time to time. Your responsibilities will be aligned with the role of Full Stack Developer and the operational requirements of the Product Engineering department. The company may assign work involving project execution, research, documentation, client or internal coordination, analysis, testing, reporting, training, support activities, and other duties reasonably connected with the approved role.

JOB REQUIREMENTS AND JOINING CHECKLIST

- Submit valid identity proof, address proof, education records, experience records if applicable, and any role-specific documents requested by HR.

- Provide accurate contact details, emergency contact information, bank or statutory information if required for the engagement type, and updated profile information.
- Maintain availability, attendance, communication discipline, and response timelines expected for the role, work location, and reporting structure.
- Use only approved systems, devices, software, credentials, repositories, files, and communication channels for company work.
- Complete onboarding, policy acknowledgement, confidentiality acceptance, tool access setup, and any training or induction activity assigned by the company.
- Meet role expectations relating to quality, timelines, documentation, ethical conduct, teamwork, and responsible handling of company or client information.

PROFESSIONAL EXPECTATIONS

- Maintain punctuality, regular attendance, accountability, and professional conduct throughout the association.
- Complete assigned work with care, accuracy, confidentiality, and respect for timelines.
- Follow reasonable instructions issued by your reporting manager and authorized company representatives.
- Participate in reviews, discussions, feedback sessions, handovers, and knowledge-sharing activities when requested.
- Respect workplace rules, information security practices, anti-harassment standards, and responsible use of digital resources.

CONFIDENTIALITY AND COMPANY POLICIES

Any material, data, code, design, credential, client information, business information, employee information, or documentation accessed or created during the association must be treated as confidential. Such information must not be copied, disclosed, published, retained, transferred, or used outside authorized company work. You are required to comply with company policies relating to data protection, intellectual property, workplace conduct, non-disclosure, and security controls.

VERIFICATION, REVIEW AND COMPLETION

The company may review your eligibility, submitted documents, background verification status, work performance, attendance, conduct, and completion of assigned work before confirming continuation, completion, certification, experience records, or relieving documentation. For background verification or third-party confirmation, authorized verifiers may contact bgv@lumentix.in with the reference number shown in this letter.

> Please confirm acceptance of this offer in writing and complete all requested joining formalities before the joining date. This document can be verified using the reference number and QR code printed on this letter.

We welcome you to LUMENTIX SOLUTIONS PRIVATE LIMITED and look forward to a productive, ethical, and professionally meaningful association.
